

The Buchanan Flea Market

The old red barn continues to greet visitors traveling along Main Street just as it has for more than 100 years only today, it welcomes visitors to the Buchanan Flea Market.

Vendors flock from the Roanoke Valley, Shenandoah Valley and beyond to set up and sell their wares in the field at the Buchanan Flea Market every weekend weather permitting.

Every time the gates open it is a new adventure as vendors offering anything from furniture, farm equipment, clothing, antiques, tools, household items and so much more!
